IN2-1000

This is the exchange inner of the model 1100 of the ACAM and GCAM series which can give room to one body, one lens and several films. The main material used is soft terry and the whole inner is thickly padded to ensure a high level of protection for all the photographic equipment. The dividers are detachable and can be freely repositioned to create the partitions desired.

Thanks to the standardized size of bags, this inner can be used with different models including the GDR-101 and WW-01. In addition, if used with similar size handbags it is possible to create new and original camera bags.
